

Welcome to FlyHealthy@SEA

Safety and well-being come first at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport (SEA). In response to the global COVID-19 pandemic, we are committed to keeping you, our employees, and our community safe.

Most passengers continue to follow state guidance to avoid non-essential travel, actions that help us maintain the health and safety of those performing essential work. Forecasts show passenger volume increasing slightly this month with as many as 8,000 departing screened passengers on the busiest May travel days.

We are looking forward to the gradual easing of travel restrictions as our region and country stop the spread of COVID-19. We are using this time to prepare for the next phase of re-opening our economy and getting ready for higher volumes of activity at the airport.

FlyHealthy@SEA is a multi-phased strategy to ensure the health and well-being of passengers, visitors and workers. This weekly update summarizes actions by the Port of Seattle and our partners for FlyHealthy@SEA.

Information changes rapidly. Bookmark our website and keep up on social media with #FlyHealthySEA.

We miss you and look forward to the moment we can welcome you back to SEA.

FlyHealthy@SEA by the Numbers

We took immediate actions now to support public health.

- Installed 100 percent of 240 interim signs
- Deployed 100 percent of 450 interim floor markings for physical distancing
- Deployed 83 percent of 600 permanent floor markings for physical distancing
- Installed 45 percent of 178 plastic protective barriers that buffer travelers and airport employees
- 5,720 hours spent cleaning and disinfecting the buses and terminal at SEA each week, 85,800 total hours since February
- Spritzed, sprayed, and dispensed
 - 706 gallons of hand sanitizer
 - Over 4,200 ounces of disinfecting spray
 - 700 containers of sanitizer wipes in response to COVID-19
- Installed 250 hand sanitizer stations throughout the terminal

Preparing to Travel — Recovery Ready

The next time you visit SEA, your experience will look and feel different, including:

- Passengers, visitors, and workers are required to wear face coverings in the public areas of SEA
- Signage for reminders and spacing to honor physical distancing
- Plastic protective barriers that buffer travelers and airport employees
- Frequent disinfection with medical-grade cleaning products
- Added 250 hand sanitizer stations throughout the terminal for your use. Download the SEA App with our interactive map of hand sanitizer locations.

We will reconfigure spaces to support physical distancing in queues, seating areas, and while moving through the terminal by June 1. We will have a plan to implement temperature checks for departing domestic and arriving international passengers by June 9.

This is just the beginning. We are hard at work planning for a busier terminal and better times ahead.

Help Stop the Spread – Passenger Actions

Passengers, employees, and the community can help stop the spread of COVID-19. We ask you to follow these guidelines to protect yourself, your fellow travelers and airport employees, including:

- Avoid non-essential travel
- Stay home when you are sick. And get better soon!

Maintain your distance and stay six feet (or two meters) apart from others

Practice physical distancing

- No more than four in an elevator,
- Less than 10 in a train car
- Using every fourth step on escalators

Wear face coverings to help slow the spread of germs

Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds

Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth